1.1	In accordance with its Mission Statement and its Strategic Plan 2023 - A Flourishing Learning Community, Mary Immaculate College supports a research community of scholars of theory and practice in a range of disciplines in contemporary higher education. Research is premised on critical and inquiring approaches to the acquisition and publication of new knowledge and frames of understanding across many research fields and professional and public constituencies. Research is a central part of the professional identity of the academic staff. As an institute of higher education, Mary Immaculate College is a community of learning, where the best teaching is underpinned by research and critical inquiry. Staff research activity reinforces a culture of investigation, examination, and reflection on every aspect of their disciplines, which makes teaching and learning a vital, responsive process. The College values teaching of research and teaching for research, recognizing the critical interdependence between the teaching and research functions of the institution. This policy is a charter for research within the College community of learning, informing and strengthening the educational and service functions of the College within the Higher Education landscape. It provides for programmatic and policy-oriented research and underpins the highest standards for ethical conduct, research integrity and responsibility in academic research.
1.2	Through this policy Mary Immaculate College endorses a research ethos that is dedicated to the pursuit and publication of knowledge. It advances an institutional research agenda with clear support structures and procedures to support the development of individual and group research, and incentivises excellence and achievement in research. This research policy encourages initiatives and innovations from all researchers to enhance the College's research profile and reputation.
1.3	The College endorses active research partnerships with corporate, governmental, educational and philanthropic agencies in responding to national, regional and local needs, and supporting socio-economic and cultural development. MIC provides leadership and support structures that enable faculty to conduct and publish research, work as exchange scholars, and undertake research leave of absence. Mary Immaculate College underwrites the highest quality standards for staff and postgraduate research.
2.0	POLICY SCOPE & APPLICATION
2.1	In this policy the College sets out its commitments to support and resource staff research in line with the College's Strategic Plans and HEA Compacts. In recent times the College has invested significantly in this area through financial supports for research, staff up-skilling, building external collaborative links and providing dedicated in-house research support structures within the College's Research Office. It also provides for staff and postgraduate research facilities within the John Henry Newman Campus at MIC. This infrastructure will be maintained and developed further, and the integration of research with teaching and learning will be a particular focus for MIC in the coming years.

2.2	The general terms of this policy apply to all members of the MIC academic staff. The policy sets out the main research support schemes for academic staff research. These schemes will be overseen by the Vice President for Research and will be operated through the Research Office with the advice and assistance of the College's Research Committee and approval of the Executive Team. The research support schemes are offered subject to the following requirements being fulfilled by scheme applicants: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ They have produced a current year Personal Research Plan and submitted it to their HOD; ○ They have updated their Institutional Online Research Survey to the date of their application; ○ They have updated their publications on MIRR to the date of their application; ○ They have undertaken research integrity training offered through the National Forum for Research Integrity. Specific eligibility criteria for each scheme are given below. The Research Office provides Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) for the operation of all support schemes. The College will provide for these schemes within its annual core budget for research. Funding for research support schemes will be budget sensitive, as is the case with all College functions.
2.3	Appeals relating to any aspect of the processes for the operation of the schemes set out in this policy will be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of the MIC Grievance Procedure. Information on this may be requested from the MIC HR Office.
2.4	This policy should be read in conjunction with the MIC Research Integrity Policy, MIC Data Protection Policy, Safeguarding Policies and other relevant policies, as appropriate.

Applications to external research funders must be legally and financially compliant with relevant regulations (HR; GDPR; Funder/Funding Scheme T&Cs; Financial Accounting & Audit). All research applications to external funders must be processed through the Research Office in the first instance for College approval (signoff, stamp, financial data, banker for funds, point of contact, recruitment of research personnel, ethical clearance etc.). Applications must be submitted in a timely manner that allows a reasonable period for processing to take place across the Finance Office, HR Office and the Data Compliance Office in advance of funders' deadlines. Assistance and advice is provided to applicants throughout the process, as well as detailed information on funders' schemes, programme planning, budget preparation, quality assurance, technical compliance checks and delivery of documentation to the funder in a timely and professional manner. This process also ensures that all College costs can be suitably identified and included. A standard operating procedure (RGS SOP105) can be found on the RGS Intranet or by contacting the Research Office.
3.8.2	Management of Funding Applications Post-Award In keeping with best practice used in Research Offices elsewhere in the university sector, post-award support for externally funded research grants is provided through the Research Office, HR, Data Compliance and the Finance Office. The MIC Research Office provides a systematic and transparent procedure for the management of external funding (including maintenance of running budget line balances for staff using a Control Spreadsheet, counter-signing all payments from externally funded research accounts for staff and ensuring that expenditure is in line with the budget agreed with the funder); assistance with procurement; preparation of terms of reference / advertisements / recruitment / induction of research staff; preparation of interim and final reports to funders; advice and assistance to PIs and other project staff where necessary. 3.9	Mary Immaculate Research Repository & Digital Archive (MIRR)
3.9.1	MIRR is a RIAN-compliant open-access repository developed to support dissemination of research generated by MIC staff, postgraduates and research groups. Through this policy MIC endorses MIRR and encourages staff and postgraduate students to avail of the advantages it offers. The potential of MIRR in terms of new opportunities for collaborations and publicity is substantial. MIRR is both an Institutional Repository and a Digital Archive. MIRR is underpinned by the principles of the "Open Archive Initiative" and is compliant with the Higher Education Authority (HEA) Policy relating to the open access repository of published research (2008).

3.9.2	It is a condition of this policy that staff members wishing to avail of its research support schemes must register their publications on MIRR. A standard operating procedure (RGS SOP109) can be found on the RGS Intranet or by contacting the Research Office.
3.10 Mary Immaculate Research Ethics Committee (MIREC)
3.10.1	The Mary Immaculate College Research Ethics Committee (MIREC) has overall responsibility for research ethics in all aspects of research involving human participants where this research is conducted by MIC staff, postgraduates and undergraduates.
3.10.2	MIREC supports all researchers in ensuring that research is carried out to the highest possible standards with regard for the welfare of human participants and in accordance with recognised legal, professional and ethical standards.
3.10.3	Through this policy the College endorses MIREC and requires MIC staff, postgraduates and undergraduates apply to MIREC (including as appropriate its devolved ethics committees / boards at departmental / faculty level) for ethical clearance for research projects involving human participants. Applicants are obliged to be fully conversant with MIC Safeguarding policies and the MIC Research Integrity Policy.
3.10.4	The full suite of MIREC documentation and procedures can be found on the RGS Intranet or by contacting the MIREC Administrator in the Research Office.
3.11 Research Institutes & Centres
3.11.1	Designated MIC Research Institutes and Centres are formed to offer a locus and support structure for thematic research within the College.
3.11.2	They offer an opportunity for College staff from various departments and different disciplinary backgrounds to come together in collaboration in order to conduct research in an interdisciplinary context. They also provide a structure within which MIC academics collaborate with colleagues from other institutions and organisations both nationally and internationally. They provide enhanced potential for researchers to develop and expand the range and depth of their collective research plans, and to respond to opportunities requiring economies of scale as they arise.
3.11.3	In some cases this may confer improved access to funding and other resources, while in others it opens up opportunities to engage in large-scale projects that are beyond the capacity of individuals operating on their own.
3.12 Institutional Online Research Survey
3.12.1	All members of the academic staff are required to participate in the Institutional Online Research Survey. Research data arising from the survey are used for internal (e.g. UR; President's report) and external (e.g. DES; HEA; Institutional Compact; HERD etc.) reporting. Based on this survey and other available data, the College will compile databases of research activities and research outputs.

3.12.2	It is a condition of this policy that staff members wishing to avail of its research support schemes must participate in the Institutional Online Research Survey. A standard operating procedure (RGS SOP107) can be found on the RGS Intranet or by contacting the Research Office.
3.13	Personal Research Plans
3.13.1	The purpose of the Personal Research Plan (PRP) is to enhance and support the strategic planning of research by individual staff members within academic departments and to inform Departmental Research Plans (DRPs). This process can accommodate individual research trajectories within departmental strategies, and ensure that the research environment within departments is supportive and responsive to the needs of staff members. The focus of the PRP is developmental, both for individuals and departments.
3.13.2	The PRP should include the full range of activities of the staff member in the context of research engagement for the forthcoming year. This might include all or some of the following, as well as other elements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Formal research training / upskilling courses ○ Research networking / collaboration events ○ Current research projects underway ○ Research projects in planning ○ Research grant applications in preparation ○ Publications in planning, in preparation, in press ○ Conference presentations formally accepted for conferences in the A/Y ○ Conference organisation in current A/Y ○ Current research postgraduate supervision (Masters & Doctoral Students - start-ups, in process, approaching completion/graduation in the A/Y)
3.13.3	Once the PRP has been completed and agreed by both the Head of Department and the staff member, a copy of the PRP should be sent to the Head of Department as an electronic file. The Head of Department will incorporate each PRP into the departmental research strategy and will ensure that related departmental commitments and actions are fulfilled. The combined PRPs in each department will inform the DRP that is authored by the Head of Department. A standard operating procedure (RGS SOP112) can be found on the RGS Intranet or by contacting the Research Office.
3.14	Research Integrity Training
3.14.1	Academic staff members are offered an opportunity in MIC to avail of research integrity training provided through the National Forum for Research Integrity. This is provided across the Irish HEI sector.
3.14.2	The training is provided by the independent firm EPIGEUM, arranged by the NFRI. The Research Office coordinates the training roll-out at MIC (initially 2018-2021).

3.14.3	Training is free at the point of delivery.
3.14.4	Only those staff members who have availed of such training will be deemed eligible for internal (MIC) and external (e.g. IRC, HRB, HERA, Horizon Europe) research funding awards.
4.0	ACCOUNTABILITY
4.1	Where external funders make funds available to MIC staff members for research, the recipients will be accountable to the funder(s) and the College and must report progress / completion of the activities for which they are supported. Reports to external funders must be submitted through the Research Office.
4.2	Where the College makes funds / awards available to staff members for research, the recipients will be accountable to the College and must report progress / completion of the activities for which they are supported to the Research Office.
4.3	Procurement of goods or services for research from third parties must comply with public procurement requirements as set out in the College's policies and must be processed through the relevant College offices.
4.4	The same tendering procedures apply to equipment purchased with research grants as all other goods and services procured for the College under the Department of Finance Guidelines.
5.0	ACADEMIC FREEDOM
5.1	In keeping with the expressed commitment in the College Mission Statement to "excellence in teaching, learning, and research" and to "the intellectual freedom of staff and students", academic staff are free to engage in research / postgraduate work within their area of professional expertise.
