

Network for Researchers in Catholic Education in partnership with the Irish Institute for Catholic Studies and Catholic Association of Teachers, Schools and Colleges

Annual Conference 2023

Hosted by Mary Immaculate College, University of Limerick
Thursday 19th-Friday 20th October 2023

CONFERENCE THEME: Fluidly Faithful? Catholic Education and the Institutional Church

Our conference will invite participants to ponder the nature of the relationship between Catholic education and the wider Catholic Church. Special consideration will be given to what is and what ought to be the relationship between the Church and Catholic universities and researchers. There will also be opportunities to tease out the ways in which Catholic schools and places of education embody and remain faithful in these times of fluidity and flux.

Confirmed keynote speakers include: Professor John Sullivan, Liverpool Hope University, Dr Aiveen Mullally, Marino Institute of Education, Bishop Brendan Leahy, Bishop of Limerick, and Associate Professor Patricia Kieran, MIC and IICS. Other speakers will be announced soon.

REGISTRATION*

Further details can be found on the Mary Immaculate Website (Events)

Full conference: Euro 85

Concessions: Euro 50

Day 1: Euro 45

Day 2: Euro 45

Full-time student concession: Euro 40

Conference organisers:
sean.whittle@stmarys.ac.uk

General Enquiries: Associate Professor Patricia Kieran
patricia.kieran@mic.ul.ie

